

HIGH SCHOOL LAW TEACHER

The Adelson Educational Campus, an independent private school, is currently seeking an experienced Law teacher for our High School students. Interested candidates should have a passion for the law, enjoy creating learning experiences that engage students in critical analysis of the law, and desire to help students engage in civic life.

Responsibilities of the Law Teacher:

- Develop and implement a curriculum that will foster knowledge and essential skills.
- Create hands-on, inquiry-based, project-based lessons that build excitement for the law electives.
- Possess excellent written and oral communication and the ability to teach both.
- Prepare students for Mock Trial and Model United Nations competitions.
- Conduct ongoing assessment of student achievement through formal and informal assessments.
- Engage students in an introductory Law class including civil and criminal.
- Compile, maintain, and file all reports, records, and other documents required.
- Establish and maintain open communication by conducting conferences with parents, students, principals, and teachers.
- Maintain a professional relationship with colleagues, students, and parents.
- Use effective communication skills to present information accurately and clearly.
- Participate in staff development and faculty meetings to improve job-related skills.

Requirements of the Law Teacher:

- Bachelor's or Master's degree in History or Law (or related)
- Minimum of two years of teaching or law experience preferred
- Must be authorized to work in the U.S.
